The Bottom Line

A donor-advised fund at MCF is ideal for people looking to take their giving to a new level, with personalized service, organized administration and easy access to knowledge and research.

A commercial donor-advised fund is ideal for people looking for a simple, transactional way to manage their giving, that doesn't emphasize personal service or philanthropic advice.

Virtuoso at MCF is ideal for people with a profound commitment to charitable giving and significant resources to commit – and who want to enjoy an extremely high level of customized service with no administrative burden.

A private foundation is ideal for people with significant wealth who want a formal structure to their giving and have the ability and desire to manage its administration.
